

U. S. E. C.

Energy insights, analysis, savings. Delivered.

Is paying your bills on time the best you can do when it comes to your energy needs? You're always looking for ways to responsibly save money—especially in today's economy. Your business thrives when you're able to maximize quality, while cutting the costs of your business' assets—from food and beverage, to employee compensation, to upgrades of your facilities—so why is electricity for your business any different?

U.S.E.C. specializes in helping businesses reliably reduce their energy costs.

The question isn't whether choosing an alternative electricity supplier is a good idea; it's which program is right for you and your business. But navigating the electricity market can be overwhelming and time consuming—especially for business owners.

Let U.S.E.C. help you:

- analyze your current and historical usage
- identify opportunities to save on your current electricity program
- monitor the electricity market
- understand the options available to your business and make recommendations
- competitively bid your energy needs with top-tier electricity suppliers
- demystify electricity terms and contracts

Typical U.S.E.C. clientele experience:

- guaranteed discounted, protected price for term of their program
- annualized savings and budget certainty over time
- no enrollment fees or hidden charges
- complimentary quarterly audits
